are Shaking Dice for the United States

A black and white political cartoon depicting several German princes in military uniforms gathered around a table, gambling with dice. The central figure is a man with a large, dark beard and a mustache, wearing a uniform with a prominent cross on his collar. He is looking down at the dice on the table. To his right, another man in a uniform with a peaked cap is smiling. In the foreground, a man in a uniform with a peaked cap is looking towards the center. On the table, there are several dice and a small cup. The background is dark and indistinct. The overall style is that of a political cartoon from the early 20th century.

How Are You Going To Answer Germany's Peace Terms?

THE greatest advertisement for the Fourth Liberty Loan of the United States of America has been written by a Prussian.

His name is Count Roon and he wrote it as a member of the Prussian House of Lords. It is printed above. Read it carefully.

Forty-five billion dollars or more indemnity!

This is the meaning of war to the Prussian, as he proclaims his battles righteous, prosecuted in self-defense.

Oh, you men and women of America, is there a dollar in all this land to-day so tightly held that it will not now come forth to answer the swaggering arrogance of the Hun?

These days will tell, for as you place your name upon that subscription blank for Liberty Bonds you state the price

Why?

Because Germany has become nothing but a robber empire, a murderer empire, an empire every purpose of which is the enslavement of the rest of the world. Such purposes admit of no compromise. We must conquer or die. If we do not conquer we shall, nevertheless, die—and die slaves.

Germany began with the intention of robbing France of her iron, her coal, her best land and her great factories; of making Belgium with her rich mines, great cities and immense factories a part of Germany; of gaining the Belgian coast, from which she might conquer England, and of combining under her flag the hordes of Mohammedan Turks, and all the Balkan States, so that she might train soldiers in countless millions, build navies to sweep the oceans, and conquer the world.

Give her control of Russia and she can, and will, within a few years come back with power to take back Alsace-Lorraine, crush poor Belgium once more and destroy exhausted France, sweep every vestige of resistance from Europe, Asia and Africa, and then what?

Then she will thunder at our doors—from Asia she will invade us on the West, from Europe on the East, and from any possible seized vantage point on any side.

If Germany has control over the terms of peace, we who read this will live to see one of the Kaiser's six sons Emperor of America.

The time to whip Germany is now!

It is now or never!

The Princes of Germany are shaking dice for the United States!

It will take money, money, money, that we may send men, men, men!

Buy Bonds, for so only can the war be won. Unless it is won, everything you possess is lost, and with it the American soul is lost
